My passion for both aesthetics and efficiency has led me to design as well as develop for the web - for something to succeed, it needs to work well on the outside and the inside. Not only do I create beautiful responsive web and mobile interfaces, but they are also beautifully coded using HTML5, CSS, Javascript and PHP. I have been designing and developing for the web industry since 2010 - experience which is backed up by strong graphic and digital art skills, honed over the past 10 years.
